THE GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN ROOFING.

We are now ready to supply the product of entirely new machinery and processes just completed by which we not only have greatly improved the strength and durability of our well-known ASBESTOS ROOFING, but have also secured a degree of uniformity never before attained in any similar fabric. We offer this as the PERFECTED form of the portable Roofing which we have manufactured with continued improvements during the past thirty years, and as the most desirable Roofing for general purposes.

The important features of our recent improvements, for which patents have been allowed in this country and in Europe, are described in our new circular, which, with samples, will be sent free by mail.

Our Asbestos Roofing is now in use upon Factories, Foundries, Cotton Gins, Railroad Bridges, Cars, Steamboats, etc., in all parts of the world.

It is supplied ready for use, in rolls of 200 square feet, and weighs with Asbestos Roof Coating, ready for shipment, about 85 pounds to 100 square feet.

It is adapted for steep or flat roofs in all climates, and can be readily applied by unskilled workmen.

There are inferior imitations of our Asbestos Roofing, purchasers are cautioned.

FOR TWENTY YEARS
EHRET'S
Slag-Stone Composition
ROOFING,

has stood the severest tests and in no case has it
ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture
proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for
Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-

Architects' Notes.

A. S. Wagner, Williamsport, Pa., is the architect, for the new building, of the Clearfield, Clearfield County National Bank.

A. Dempwolf, of York, Pa., has made plans for a handsome cottage, for H. M. Bruner, of Columbia, Pa., to be erected at the Landisville Camp Meeting Grounds.

Paul Brandner, architect, 532 Walnut street, Phila., will complete plans for the large school house, at Haddonfield, N. J. It will be two stories high, and of brick, with stone trimmings, heated by the Smead, Wills & Co. system.

E. Schaefer & Co., architects, Drexel Building, Phila., have made plans for four houses to be built, at Marburg, Penna., for Fred Motz, two stories high, frame, wood shingle roof, wood mantels, and modern improvements.

Romulo Vasquez, architect, Holmesburg, Pa., has made plans for a fire engine house, to be located in Holmesburg, a company of citizens have raised the necessary funds, and will build it and then lease the house to the city, as there is at present no apparatus nearer than the House of Correction.

Robert Kennedy, architect, Drexel Building, Phila., has plans for a house, at Atlantic City, N. J., for Frank Siddall, three stories high, brick, shingle roof, electric bells, plate and stained glass, wood mantels, grates, tiling, and best of plumbing.

Minerva Parker, 14 S. Broad street, Phila., has made plans for a house, for Dr. W. P. Painter, to be two-and-a-half-stories high, local stone, slate roof, shingle gables, hard-wood finish, heat not yet decided on, stained and plate glass windows. The owner will erect by sub-contract system and award individually.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch street, has made plans for a house, at Jenkintown, for Mrs. Geo. Magee, to be stone, two-and-a-half-stories high, with two towers, copper capped finals, electric bells, and all modern conveniences. The contract will be sub-let by the owner; also, plans for a house for Harry Foster, at Tacony, to be of brick, three stories high, and to have all modern conveniences, and for which no contracts have been let, will be awarded to the lowest bidder.

F. G. Thorne, architect, N. E. corner Broad and Arch streets, has plans completed for the rebuilding of the Temple on Arch street, east of Broad street, which has been purchased, and will be occupied by Lulu Temple, A. A. O. N., Mystic Shrine, Philadelphia. The drawings call for a banquet room, lavatories, kitchen and closets upon the first floor; on the second will be a grand lodge room, with ante or reception rooms, closets and dressing rooms. The building will be heated by steam, and fitted with electric work throughout; nothing will be done to exterior except such painting or repairs as may be necessary.

E. F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, Phila., has prepared plans for the new church, to be erected, at Pottsville, by St. Patrick's R. C. Congregation, Rev. Father William A. Duffy, pastor. The plans call for a Gothic structure of Indiana sand-stone, with a tower and spire 150 feet high. The doors will be oak, and over the main doorway will be a large window, which will be filled as a memorial by one of the members. There will be a number of stained glass windows. The ridge of the roof will be capped with bronze or terra-cotta ornaments. There will also be a belfry for a chime of bells, steam heat, and gas or electric lighting. The seating capacity will be 1200, and the cost $50,000. He has also made plans and specifications for the erection of St. Mary's R. C. Church, Phoenixville, Pa., it will be two stories high, of brick and stone, and fitted with best of church furniture.

Moses & King, architects, 226 Walnut street, Phila., have just completed the plans for rebuilding the market house at Third and Market streets, Camden, N. J., and have awarded Charles McCaull, of Phila., the contract; they have also made plans for a summer residence for E. N. Cohn, at Merridale, N. Y., as well as plans for a large house for William L. Scellenger, at Merchantville, N. J. They have also made plans and specifications for the erection of a handsome house for Constantine Carpenter, Chestnut street, above Twelfth street, it will be three stories high, of stone and frame, and have capped finals on gables, the interior will be fitted with every modern convenience, electrical work throughout, wood mantels, plate and stained window glass, lavatories, and best of plumbing. Mr. Carpenter has just purchased nine acres of fine ground, at Radnor, known as the "Rogers Farm," and will, during the season for building, improve it by the erection of a number of fine suburban villas, the plans for which will be drawn by the above named architects, all will be finished in good style, and have all modern improvements.

E. W. Thorne, 1307 Arch street, sends the following:—Have plans fully adopted by Mrs. and Mr. E. Y. Taylor, of Germantown, Pa., for a stone house, worth six thousand dollars, hard and soft-wood finish, modern conveniences; also, plans for a stone dwelling of similar value; but different design, adopted by Miss Mary Potts, of No. 4 Upsal terrace, Germantown, fitted, etc., in a similar manner to Taylor's house; also, plans for a three-story brick dwelling, trimmed with Indiana sand-stone, hard and soft-wood finish, all modern conveniences, to be built on Ellsworth street, for George Rewcroft; also, plans for an $8,000 stone house for James B. Bicycle Riding possesses more health giving influences than all the Tonics known to the realm of science.

A ten mile spin with all of one's senses keenly alive to the enchantment of the sport, through country scenes, pleasant, picturesque and beautiful, with lungs inflated with pure air, the muscles in full play and ready for a brush, the blood tingling with renewed vigor, the mind free from business cares the whole being exalted and then an appetite a wolf might envy.

Is it a wonder that Cycle Riding has its votaries by the thousands?

The Hart Cycle Company, can fit you out from its 1890 patterns now in stock, the Columbia's at the head, and it will prove the best investment you ever made.

SLAG-STONE

for Side-walks and Floors is conceded to be the best production of the present century.

Slag-Stone when properly combined with the best grades of Portland Cement produces an artificial Stone superior in appearance, toughness, tensile and crushing strength to any combination known to modern science. Its durability is greater than the best Flag-Stone and for that reason it is cheaper than brick.

Being a non-absorbent it is superior for Canneries, Slaughter Houses, Damp Cellars, Boiler Houses, Dye Houses Etc.

For the Cellars of Residences it expresses the highest standard of perfect Sanitation as it prevents the escape of noxious gases from the underlying soil, and will not absorb impurities. It prevents dampness, is easily cleaned and renders the whole house more comfortable and healthful.

Refers with permission to William M. Singerly
Proprietor of Phila. "Record."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. APRIL 23, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

If you feel like helping some of the many American boys to learn trades, just send your little subscription to the Secretary of the Master Builders' Exchange, and mark it "For the use of the Trade School." The Trade School is in the hands of capable and responsible business men, who will make every dollar of your subscription go as far as possible in the new industry of training American boys into self-supporting American Mechanics.

WHAT a glorious American humbug our Grand Jury investigations of public institutions are. The Grand Jury announces its coming! The High-muckee-muck of the institution awaits its arrival! The beatific features of the institution are enlarged upon, and a good dinner is eaten, but the poor starved devils in loathsome cells, the victims of brutal keepers, come in for no share of the Grand Jury's attention. If a tithe of the evidence unearthed by the Philadelphia Item, showing the brutality of the keepers of the Eastern Penitentiary is true, then a general cleaning out of the institution, from warden to keepers, is in order, and the sooner done the better. What we need is not Prisoners' Aid Societies, with their weak platitudes and weaker remonstrances, but a secret detective force, under the control of our judges, to go through regular incarceration in order to get at the true inwardness of our institutions. The idea may not seem practicable, but news paper reporters have made short trips to the country for just such purposes, and why not paid detectives?

THE appetite of Eastern people for Western mortgage investments, ought to be thoroughly surfeited. What percentage of the many millions of dollars representing the savings of hard working men and women will ever return to the pockets of the poor dupes who were looking for big interest, is a question that would puzzle even a Philadelphia lawyer. Of course there are a few companies, such as the Lombard Investment, of this city, that are officered by reputable business men, who have exercised the same care in the selection of Western risks, at a fair rate of interest, as they would have taken in making Eastern investments; but these few are the exception, as in most cases the business has been transacted by a lot of sharpers, who cared little about the safety of the investments, so long as they raked in the commissions and other perquisites. The legal rate of interest, or less, is generally a safe guide for poor people with little experience, and even then the lambs frequently get bitten by the wolves, consequently it is not so difficult to anticipate the outcome of the lamb-like confidence of Eastern investors in the schemes of the Western mortgage wolves and their Eastern agents and representatives. For some years the lambs and the wolves have been following the Scriptural injunction, by lying down together. It will, however, soon be eating time, what then?

THE GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN ROOFING.

We are now ready to supply the product of entirely new machinery and processes just completed by which we not only have greatly improved the strength and durability of our well-known ASBESTOS ROOFING, but have also secured a degree of uniformity never before attained in any similar fabric. We offer this as the PERFECTED form of the portable Roofing which we have manufactured with continued improvements during the past thirty years, and as the most desirable Roofing for general purposes.

The important features of our recent improvements, for which patents have been allowed in this country and in Europe, are described in our new circular, which, with samples, will be sent free by mail.

Our Asbestos Roofing is now in use upon Factories, Foundries, Cotton Gins, Railroad Bridges, Cars, Steamboats, etc., in all parts of the world.

It is supplied ready for use, in rolls of 200 square feet, and weighs with Asbestos Roof Coating, ready for shipment, about 85 pounds to 100 square feet.

It is adapted for steep or flat roofs in all climates, and can be readily applied by unskilled workmen.

There are inferior imitations of our Asbestos Roofing, purchasers are cautioned.

Samples and Descriptive Price List free by mail.

FOR TWENTY YEARS EHRET'S Slag-Stone Composition ROOFING,

has stood the severest tests and in no case has it ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-houses, Depots, Factories, Mills and Warehouses, it is without an equal. It costs less than tin or slate, requires no painting, can be walked on without injury and must not be considered in the same light and prejudice usually bestowed upon what are known as Tar Roofs.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, for the durability of our Roofing is not only owing to our great care in laying on a roof; but also in the scientific preparation of the Material we use. Circulars and testimonials sent upon application.

The Real Estate Brokers' Company.

We are in receipt of the the prospectus of the Real Estate Brokers' Company of this city. The object and aim of this organization, if we properly interpret its purposes, is to secure, as far as possible, united and harmonious action among real estate men, which, when explained, means that by the concerted action of real estate men, through this organization, many of the present evils are to be corrected. An effort will also be made to interest our own people in home investments, and to turn the attention of those, who under false promises and big rate of interest, are yearly inveigled into Western mortgage schemes only to meet with disaster and ruin. In short, the purpose of the company is to boom Philadelphia and its vicinity through the concerted and harmonious efforts of those whose business interests are inseparably allied with the prosperity and development of the city and State.

While the Brokers' Company is to be an organization composed largely of real estate men, and devoted to real estate interests, it is the intention to make it a financial concern, possessing business possibilities to such a high degree as to enable it to earn money, not only for its own support, but also in keeping with the hopes and wishes of its stockholders, and with the even more satisfactory results of regular and profitable dividends.

The methods to be employed by the company are considered to be the best, and perhaps the only way by which this unity of action can be realized. No assessments for expenses are to be levied; in fact it is the purpose of the organization to make all investments in its stock as profitable to the stockholders as possible. The charter is sufficiently broad to enable it to become a money making concern, in fact, so broad that it would be impossible, at this date, to obtain such privileges as it relegates to this company.

The organization will have a membership composed principally of real estate brokers and agents, conveyancers and lawyers, real estate owners and builders; and, in addition to the office, there will be a room for consultation regarding the real estate and building interests. Every stockholder owning five or more shares will be entitled to membership and to register property for sale or to rent, which will be daily advertised by the company. The company will transact a general real estate business, act as agent or attorney, collect rents, ground rents, interest on mortgages, dividends, and incomes. It will also act as trustee, guardian, executor, administrator, assignor, receiver, committee, attorney, etc., and will receive and execute trusts of every description under the appointment of courts, corporations and individuals, and act as agent for selling, registering or countersigning certificates of stock, bonds, etc. It will also receive and receipt for wills for safe keeping, without charge, and receive deposits of money payable by check on demand, allowing two per cent. interest thereon, and three per cent. on deposits, subject to two weeks' notice. Mercantile paper will not be discounted but the company will confine itself to loans on marketable collateral, and unusual facilities will be offered to depositors for the collection of notes, coupons, checks, dividends, etc., on any point in the United States. The men identified with this movement are well known for business probity and high financial standing, and will bring to bear upon the new institution a large amount of real estate and business experience.

Mills to be Built.

At Walteoursville, Liberty Co., Ga., a company has been organized and will erect a paper mill.

At Melrose, Alachua Co., Fla., H. A. Blake, will rebuild his rice mill, recently destroyed by fire.

At Morehead City, Cartaret Co., N. C., the American Lumber Company will erect a large saw mill.

At Piedmont, Mineral Co., W. Va., the Piedmont Pulp and Paper Company will enlarge their mills.

At Anniston, Calhoun Co., a large cotton mill will be erected by Smith & McLaughlin, of Memphis, Tenn.

At St. Joseph, Tensas Co., La., the Marydale Land and Lumber Company will rebuild their saw mill, recently burned.

SLAG-STONE
PAVEMENT.

for Side-walks and Floors is conceded to be the best production of the present century.

Slag-Stone when properly combined with the best grades of Portland Cement produces an artificial Stone
superior in appearance, toughness, tensile and crushing strength to any combination known to modern science.
Its durability is greater than the best Flag-Stone and for that reason it is cheaper than brick.

Being a non-absorbent it is superior for Canneries,
Slaughter Houses, Damp Cellars, Boiler Houses, Dye
Houses Etc.

For the Cellars of Residences it expresses the highest standard of perfect Sanitation as it prevents the escape of noxious gases from the underlying soil, and will not absorb impurities. It prevents dampness, is easily cleaned and renders the whole house more comfortable and healthful.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1890.

PRICE 15 CENTS.

Waxed floors afford so much better an effect than those that are given a hard oil finish, that the labor of keeping them in condition should not be allowed to weigh against their adoption. Whilst repolishing with weighted brushes, previously sprinkling on the surface white wax dissolved in alcohol, not only are scratches erased, but the hue is steadily improved, obtaining in the end a most complete mirror-like finish. The practice of master house painters in waxing floors varies considerably. An excellent method is to apply to the floor a thin coat of wax and shellac, and, after a slight rubbing, let it stand to harden; then to give it a coating of more wax, rubbing up to a polish. This will render a floor beautiful even without rugs, and it can be both danced and walked upon.—Exchange.

One of the chief reasons for the failure of cheap houses to look well is the fact that they are overloaded with ornament. If those who wish to build cheaply would be content to build plainly the results would be more satisfactory to the eye. The same fault is noticed in cheap furniture. It is always disfigured with fancy turns and machine carving, while to find a piece of plain, substantial finish, one must look at the high priced goods. Too many men only able to build a cottage, load it with weak imitations of the handsome decorations of the palace, and the result is thoroughly inharmonious. In the cheap house let plainness of construction reign from foundation to gable. Let the ornamentation be, not in the woodwork, but in the painting. Then the effects may be whatever desired and may be changed at the pleasure of the owner.—Exchange.

THE GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN ROOFING.

We are now ready to supply the product of entirely new machinery and processes just completed by which we not only have greatly improved the strength and durability of our well-known ASBESTOS ROOFING, but have also secured a degree of uniformity never before attained in any similar fabric. We offer this as the PERFECTED form of the portable Roofing which we have manufactured with continued improvements during the past thirty years, and as the most desirable Roofing for general purposes.

The important features of our recent improvements, for which patents have been allowed in this country and in Europe, are described in our new circular, which, with samples, will be sent free by mail.

Our Asbestos Roofing is now in use upon Factories, Foundries, Cotton Gins, Railroad Bridges, Cars, Steamboats, etc., in all parts of the world.

It is supplied ready for use, in rolls of 200 square feet, and weighs with Asbestos Roof Coating, ready for shipment, about 85 pounds to 100 square feet.

It is adapted for steep or flat roofs in all climates, and can be readily applied by unskilled workmen.

There are inferior imitations of our Asbestos Roofing, purchasers are cautioned.

FOR TWENTY YEARS EHRET'S Slag-Stone Composition ROOFING,

has stood the severest tests and in no case has it ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-houses, Depots, Factories, Mills and Warehouses, it is without an equal. It costs less than tin or slate, requires no painting, can be walked on without injury and must not be considered in the same light and prejudice usually bestowed upon what are known as Tar Roofs.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, for the durability of our Roofing is not only owing to our great care in laying on a roof; but also in the scientific preparation of the Material we use. Circulars and testimonials sent upon application.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1890.

PRICE 15 CENTS.

The Exchange of the Operative Builders' Formally Opened.

On Tuesday evening, 13th instant, the Operative Builders Association, of Philadelphia, extended a generous welcome to its many friends, the occasion being the formal opening of its Exchange, at the southeast corner of Broad street and Columbia avenue. Mr. W. T. B. Roberts, the President, presided at the banquet, and, in a terse speech, outlined the purposes of the Exchange, particularly emphasizing the fact that it was not intended as an opposition organization to the Master Builders' Exchange, as there were many who were members of both organizations. The purposes of the operators were solely intended to advance the interests of the operative builders in procuring from the city the consideration and facilities, such as street work, etc., to which they were justly entitled, as, through the enterprise of the operative builders, hundreds of thousands of dollars were yearly added to the city's revenue.

Director Wagner followed Mr. Roberts in a lengthy speech, in which he placed the responsibility upon City Councils for the annoyance and serious loss the builders of the city had suffered during the past, for the want of gas and water pipes and the outlook for 1890. Mr. Wagner stated, was no better; for unless Councils gave him the money, no pipe could be forthcoming.

Ex-Mayor Smith followed General Wagner in a witty speech; and, with many palpable hits, kept the guests roaring with laughter.

The organization has already acquired a membership of one hundred and twenty, and embraces, perhaps, more men who have enhanced the value and beauty of their city than any organization of any kind that has ever existed. Besides operative builders, all the trades identified with the building interests are eligible for membership.

The Master Builders' Reception to the Philadelphia Architects.

Never before, perhaps, in the history of mankind have the master builders, as a corporate body been honored with the presence of such a large and distinguished number of professional gentlemen, as that gathered in the hall of the Master Builders' Exchange in response to an invitation extended to the architects of Philadelphia, on Thursday Eve., 15th inst. The occasion was an event that will be long remembered, not only from its important significance as inaugurating a social as well as a higher and more exalted plane of business relationship between architects and builders throughout the world, for such an example is sure to be followed, but also, because the occasion was the conception of Philadelphia builders, members of what is considered to be the best organized Master Builders' Exchange in America.

With unstinted hospitality, enhanced by the warmest possible expression of esteem, the honored guests were welcomed by the President of the Exchange, Mr. Stacy Reeves.

The menu was an elaborate one, prepared by Caterer Wiener. The speeches were terse, brilliant and witty, the guests warmly entering into the spirit of the occasion, clearly demonstrating the fact that architects were, as a rule, quite as familiar with the use of beautiful rhetoric as they were with the true poetry of ideality, represented in their art.

Among the speakers were Wm. H. Sayward, Secretary of the National Association of Master Builders; Mr. M. Wilson, President of Franklin Institute; Amos J. Boydon, Secretary Philadelphia Chapter of Architects; architect John Ord, architect Willis G. Hale, and many others. Addresses were also made by A. O. Kittridge, editor of Carpentry and Building; W. P. Lockington, the Philadelphia correspondent of Architectural Era; also, by George M. Watson, Vice President of the Exchange; Ex-president David A. Woelpper, Franklin M. Harris, Morrell Dobbins and others. Mr. Chas. Gillingham presided with commendable ability, and in behalf of the Exchange tendered the use of the hall to the architects for such occasions as they might see fit to use it.

The following gentlemen were present with many others:

Louis C. Baker, Jr.; E. James Dallett, Charles Balderson, Penrose E. Benner, Edwin F. Bertolette, C. W. Bolton, Amos J. Boyden, Paul Brandner, Josiah S. Brien, A. B. Brown, Stephen D. —At Chester, Delaware Co., Councilman Riley contemplates the erection of eight frame cottages. William Wilson, Col. S. A. Dyer, John B. Roach, J. Frank Black, Harry Eyre and H. E. Wilson, known as the Pennsylvania Real Estate and Construction Company, have purchased the Joshua P. Eyre estate, and given out contracts for the erection of ten or twelve dwellings. Robert

Wetherill & Co. have bought all the ground between Morton avenue and Upland street, and Third street and the Reading Railroad.

—At Oil City, Venango Co., the bids will be opened in a few days for the erection of the First National Bank. It will be of brick, with stone trimmings. E. A. Curtis is the architect. A. Drueding, Metropolitan Block, Chicago, Ill., has prepared the plans for the new edifice of St. Joseph's R. C. Church, at Oil City, Pa., brick and sand-stone, spires 170 feet high, stained glass windows in transept, 26x16 feet, rose window, 16x26 feet, Vermont black slate roof. Cost, $80,000. Rev. Thomas Carroll, pastor. Wm. Hanley, Bradford, Pa., contractor.

—At Coatesville, Chester Co., the plans and specifications for the new edifice of the Presbyterian congregation have been accepted and work will begin in a few days. The material will be white limestone, from the quarries of the Acme Lime and Stone Company, of Avondale, Pa. The seats will be arranged in amphitheatre order, and the seating capacity will be 600. The windows will be of stained glass. The architect is Thomas P. Lonsdale, of Philadelphia, and the building committee, James B. Wright, Edward S. Baldwin, Henry J. Branson, Dr. H. C. McClure and Wallace S. Harlan.

—At Wayne, Delaware Co., it is probable that the members of the Methodist congregation will erect a church, as a site has been selected and the matter placed in the hands of a committee, consisting of Messrs. James P. P. Brown, James M. Williamson and A. M. Ware. The Wayne Land Company has sold twenty-seven-and-a-half acres of land to Christopher Fallon, 411 Walnut street, Philadelphia. The property is the highest in Delaware Co., being 500 feet above sea level. Mr. Fallon will divide the tract into building lots, and will probably erect a number of cottages in the autumn.

—At Pittsburg, H. C. Frick, George A. Macbeth, H. Kirk Porter and other members of the library committee, have settled on Bellefield, a plot of ground owned by Mrs. Schenley, as the site for the main building of the Carnegie Free Library. An option has also been secured on a strip of land adjoining, belonging to the Brown estate. The site selected is nearly opposite to the entrance of Schenley Park. Miss Mary Morehead, of Centre avenue, will erect a drinking fountain in Second Avenue Park. Rev. Whiteside, of Bethany Gospel Mission, can give information. The well and fountain will cost about $600. C. L. Reno will erect three handsome dwellings on Rippey street. J. P. Smyth will erect five brick dwellings, to cost $12,000. Mrs. W. L. Abbott will erect handsome dwelling, to cost $20,000, from plans prepared by George S. Orth, 43 Sixth avenue. C. H. Hoffman will erect a dwelling, to cost $13,000, Race & Fisher, builders. Mrs. Wm. Rea, frame two-story dwelling, to cost $10,000, plans by George S. Orth. Same architect has finished plans for a residence for Miss Mary P. McKee, to cost $18,000. Dr. C. C. Rinehart will erect handsome two-story stone dwelling, with slate roof hard wood finish, stained glass windows and all modern conveniences, from plans prepared by C. M. Barthberger, No. 62 Lewis Block.

SLAG-STONE
PAVEMENT.

for Side-walks and Floors is conceded to be the best production of the present century.

Slag-Stone when properly combined with the best grades of Portland Cement produces an artificial Stone
superior in appearance, toughness, tensile and crushing
strength to any combination known to modern science.
Its durability is greater than the best Flag-Stone and
for that reason it is cheaper than brick.

Being a non-absorbent it is superior for Canneries,
Slaughter Houses, Damp Cellars, Boiler Houses, Dye
Houses Etc.

For the Cellars of Residences it expresses the highest standard of perfect Sanitation as it prevents the escape of noxious gases from the underlying soil, and will not absorb impurities. It prevents dampness, is easily cleaned and renders the whole house more comfortable and healthful.

An Interesting Book on Bricks.

Isometrical Diagrams of Plain Molded and Ornamental Bricks Manufactured by the Peerless Brick Company of Philadelphia, with Notes on their use in the Construction and Ornamentation of Buildings, is the title of a quarto volume of eighty pages just issued by the Company that has pioneered the introduction of ornamental brick into the architecture of this country and brought it to the utmost perfection. In the ordinary acceptance of the term this is a trade catalogue, but its title shows that it is very much more, and an inspection of its pages will prove it. It is really an elaborate treatise upon bricks and their various practical and artistic uses. It contains illustrations of a large number of the ornamental bricks manufactured by the Peerless Brick Company, and also drawings of many different shaped bricks for arch work and other irregular constructions. Pictures of fireplaces, mantel-pieces and sections of buildings are also given, showing the various artistic uses these bricks can be put to in practice. Brick is daily receiving its due recognition as the most durable and most pliable material for architectural work. No material withstands the elements of fire, water and air equal to burnt clay, and no material can be handled in so many different ways and with such diverse effects as bricks. It is owing to these facts that the Peerless Brick Company began the introduction of its beautiful and artistic manufactures, and has made a name for itself co-extensive with the length and breadth of the land. The color of brick is no longer synonymous with red; buff, brown, gray, white and black are also made by the Peerless Brick Company. The cover of this catalogue is thoroughly in keeping with the artistic character of the products of the Peerless. The design on the front exhibits the works of the Company at Old York Road and Nicetown Lane, which cover about seventy acres, seen through a broken arch of ornamental brick, and is engraved on steel and printed on fine parchment paper. The back cover has an engraving of a fire-place at the works of the Company. Its office is in the building of the Builders' Exchange, where it has a very handsome structure exhibiting a variety of bricks and their uses. The title page has for its motto this inscription, on a brick pyramid, taken from Sir Gardiner Wilkinson's work: "Compare me not with the stone pyramid, for I am as superior to them as Jove is to other gods. Thus was I made; men probing with poles the bottom of a lake drew forth the mud, which adhered to them, and formed it into bricks."

Population of the Large Cities.

In 1880 there were in the United States twenty cities with a population of 100,000 or over. Judging by conservative local estimates the census of 1890 will show as many as thirty, and possibly thirty-five cities each having at least 100,000 inhabitants.

New York and Philadelphia are still plainly at the top. But the third place passes from Brooklyn, rapidly as she is growing, to Chicago. Although Brooklyn is now the fourth city in point of population, she will stand in the census of 1890 with a population nearly equal to that of Philadelphia in 1880. St. Louis and Baltimore, which were behind Boston in 1880, are probably ahead of her to-day, and Boston drops from the fifth to the seventh place in the list.

The next four cities—Cincinnati, San Francisco, New Orleans and Cleveland—hold their rank in the last census. Then we come to another drop, Pittsburg goes down three points, and, its former place, as the twelfth city, is taken by Minneapolis, which was as low down as number thirty-eight in the last census.—Once a Week.

Iron Bricks are said to be in satisfactory use in Germany for street paving.

Porch steps, if of wood, should have air holes at their ends. It may be well to cleat the treads to prevent warping, which leaves dished places to collect rain or sleet.

THE GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN ROOFING.

We are now ready to supply the product of entirely new machinery and processes just completed by which we not only have greatly improved the strength and durability of our well-known ASBESTOS ROOFING, but have also secured a degree of uniformity never before attained in any similar fabric. We offer this as the PERFECTED form of the portable Roofing which we have manufactured with continued improvements during the past thirty years, and as the most desirable Roofing for general purposes.

The important features of our recent improvements, for which patents have been allowed in this country and in Europe, are described in our new circular, which, with samples, will be sent free by mail.

Our Asbestos Roofing is now in use upon Factories, Foundries, Cotton Gins, Railroad Bridges, Cars, Steamboats, etc., in all parts of the world.

It is supplied ready for use, in rolls of 200 square feet, and weighs with Asbestos Roof Coating, ready for shipment, about 85 pounds to 100 square feet.

It is adapted for steep or flat roofs in all climates, and can be readily applied by unskilled workmen.

There are inferior imitations of our Asbestos Roofing, purchasers are cautioned.

FOR TWENTY YEARS

EHRET'S

Slag-Stone Composition
ROOFING,

has stood the severest tests and in no case has it
ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture
proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other
injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention
whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for
Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-houses, Depots, Factories, Mills and Warehouses,
it is without an equal. It costs less than tin or slate, requires no painting, can be walked on without injury and must not be considered in the same light and prejudice usually bestowed upon what are known as Tar Roofs.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, for the durability of our Roofing is not only owing to our great care in laying on a roof; but also in the scientific preparation of the Material we use. Circulars and testimonials sent upon application.

A PROCESS has lately been invented of bronzing steel surfaces so as to prevent the possibility of rust. The steel, which must be free from all impurities, is exposed for two or three minutes to the vapors of a mixture of hydrochloric and nitric acids in equal parts, at a temperature of from 550° to 650° F. When the steel cools it is rubbed over with ordinary vaseline, and again heated until the vaseline begins to decompose; this treatment with the vaseline is repeated once. By mixing acetic acid with the other acids a lighter color is produced.—American Journal of Railway Appliances.

IN France, an organized method has been adopted regarding the laying down of floors. It consists in embodying the flooring in asphalt instead of on sleepers. These new floors are used extensively for the ground floors of barracks and hospitals, as well as for churches and courts of law. For such floors, pieces of oak, usually 2½ to 4 inches broad, 12 to 30 inches long, and one inch thick are pressed down into a layer of hot asphalt not quite half an inch thick in the well-known herring bone pattern. The advantages of this flooring is said to be.

1. Dampness from below, and its consequences, rot is hereby prevented.
2. Floors may be cleaned quickly, and with the least amount of water, insuring rapid drying.
3. Vermin cannot accumulate in the joints.
4. Unhealthy exhalations from the soil cannot penetrate into living rooms. Asphalt being impermeable to damp, rooms become healthy, even if they are not vaulted underneath. In buildings with several stories, as in hospitals, the vitiated air of the lower rooms cannot ascend, an object which has hitherto not been possible to attain by any other means known.

5. The layer of asphalt will also prevent the spreading of fire from one floor to another in case of conflagration.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JUNE 4, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

SOME business men carry their friendship into business matters entirely too far, in other words, there is one class of business men who feel that they must be patronized for friendship's sake, regardless of price or quality, and they feel cut and hurt if they learn of some good friend having purchased from some one else, even at a saving. Another class of one's business friends presume upon their friendship even to the extent of forgetting, or neglecting pay-day altogether; and, if gently reminded that such an account is over due, they become profuse in promises, until the poor victim of too much of this kind of friendship is compelled to use vigorous and distasteful means to obtain that which is his by right, and which another man would have had long before. The consequences, in such cases, are easily anticipated, for while the friend creditor simply looks upon the whole transaction from a purely business stand-point, and is fully justified for having pushed things, the friend debtor becomes, in his own estimation, the picture of injured innocence; and, finally, promises himself "never to buy again from that man," nor ever regard him as his friend again. This kind of business presumption on the part of business friends will exist as long as there are men to do business, and business to be done. It is altogether wrong, but there is no remedy for it, and real estate men, having control of properties, suffer, perhaps, in this respect, as much as any other class of our business men.

Mr. A. rents a house and agrees to pay monthly, in advance, he gets possession under a promise to send a check around in a day or two, B. remits the amount, less the commission, to the owner, in anticipation of A.'s check. Days, weeks and a whole month gone, and a second due, and no check comes, and all this trouble and annoyance to B., because Mr. A. is his friend. Better keep friendship out of business. Pay your friends as promptly as you are compelled to pay strangers, patronize your friends as long as their business methods justify it, and steer clear of the friend who is constantly presuming upon your mutual friendship, for he will make your friendship for him, a costly luxury in the end.

Byzantine Rugs.

A novelty in American textile products is the Byzantine rug, now being manufactured under patents owned by the carpet manufacturing firm of McCallum & Sloan, 1012 and 1014 Chestnut street. The goods are reversible, either side being equally beautiful. It is said that these rugs are superior to the Smyrna, and are equal for beauty and durability to the medium grades of Turkish. The colorings are artistic, and these rugs represent a superior floor covering, equal to many of the imported rugs at a very much less price. They are just the thing for offices, and have already become very popular among housekeepers, and more particularly for country homes.

AN admirable step in the interests of fire protection and the safety of the firemen is about to be taken by the Albany Street Railway Company, by the establishment of a fire wagon. This, it is announced, will be held in readiness day and night, to go out in response to alarms that may indicate a fire in any one of the streets through which the company's tracks pass. Two men will be in charge of it and it will be their duty to look after the company's wires, to cut them where necessary, so that the firemen may not be hindered in their work, and also to see to it that the severed wires are properly secured so that no one may suffer from stray currents of electricity. That such a system will be appreciated by the members of the fire department goes without saying. The example of the Albany company is one worthy of following elsewhere.—Exchange.

SLAG-STONE PAVEMENT.

for Side-walks and Floors is conceded to be the best production of the present century.

Slag-Stone when properly combined with the best grades of Portland Cement produces an artificial Stone superior in appearance, toughness, tensile and crushing strength to any combination known to modern science. Its durability is greater than the best Flag-Stone and for that reason it is cheaper than brick.

Being a non-absorbent it is superior for Canneries, Slaughter Houses, Damp Cellars, Boiler Houses, Dye Houses Etc.

For the Cellars of Residences it expresses the highest standard of perfect Sanitation as it prevents the escape of noxious gases from the underlying soil, and will not absorb impurities. It prevents dampness, is easily cleaned and renders the whole house more comfortable and healthful.

EHRET'S

Slag-Stone Composition

ROOFING,

has stood the severest tests and in no case has it
ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture
proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other
injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention
whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for
Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-
houses, Depots, Factories, Mills and Warehouses,
it is without an equal. It costs less than tin or slate requires no painting, can be walked on without injury and must not be considered in the same light and prejudice usually bestowed upon what are known as Tar Roofs.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, for the durability of our Roofing is not only owing to our great care in laying on a roof; but also in the scientific preparation of the Material we use. Circulars and testimonials sent upon application.

We have no AGENTS, Manufactured and applied ONLY by

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JUNE 18, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE statement of the Central Saving Fund, Trust and Deposit Company, 1326 Chestnut street, Phila., shows a net profit of $11,724.36 for the first eleven months of its organization. This is certainly a very creditable showing, and speaks volumes of praise for its management.

DAVIS & HARVEY's sale on Saturday last, at Narberth Park, Elm Station, Penna. R. R., resulted in the sale of some thirty-six lots, netting about $30,000. A large number of business men were in attendance, and the sale was handled with consummate skill by the auctioneer, Mr. T. Nelson Davis.

Davis & Harvey's

GREAT SALE OF BUILDING LOTS AT MOORES STATION.

The present popularity of Moores Station, Delaware Co., for suburban residences arises from its accessibility to Philadelphia, and its high, peculiarly healthful surroundings. It is situated directly at the station, in a beautiful country, and is only nine miles from Broad street station, via the main line of the P. W. and B. R. R. There are forty-eight trains daily, and monthly tickets can be purchased, so that the cost of transportation amounts to but 7½ cents a trip.

On Saturday, June 28, instant, Messrs. Davis & Harvey, the real estate auctioneers, will sell for account of J. L. Galloway, 200 choice building lots situated on the main avenues, and well adapted for building operations, besides which eight brick and frame Queen Anne cottages, containing from nine to fifteen rooms and all modern conveniences, will be sold. These dwellings represent the best work and material as they were constructed as sample residences, and intended to give strength and character to the place. The terms of this sale are specially easy, and a large crowd of buyers is anticipated. For particulars see advertisement on first page.

for Side-walks and Floors is conceded to be the best production of the present century.

Slag-Stone when properly combined with the best grades of Portland Cement produces an artificial Stone superior in appearance, toughness, tensile and crushing strength to any combination known to modern science. Its durability is greater than the best Flag-Stone and for that reason it is cheaper than brick.

Being a non-absorbent it is superior for Canneries, Slaughter Houses, Damp Cellars, Boiler Houses, Dye Houses Etc.

For the Cellars of Residences it expresses the highest standard of perfect Sanitation as it prevents the escape of noxious gases from the underlying soil, and will not absorb impurities. It prevents dampness, is easily cleaned and renders the whole house more comfortable and healthful.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JUNE 25, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

FULLY two-thirds of the entire copper product of the United States is now consumed for electrical purposes. This, of course, has advanced the price fully thirty-three per cent.

A SPECIAL edition of this Journal will be issued on July 9, prox. It will contain our semi annual report of the building operations of Philadelphia for the first six months of 1890. Advertisers will do well to make a note of this, and engage space at as early a day as possible.

FOR the information of our readers, we would say, the question of amount of glasses or windows to be contained in bay windows annexed to houses being erected having been referred to the City Solicitor for an opinion, Nelson Barrett, assistant to Mr. Warwick, has stated that nothing definite is stated in the law as to the amount, so that it is now, as before, an open question, and will be until such time as a test case shall be made before the courts, when a legal construction will be rendered.

has stood the severest tests and in no case has it ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-houses, Depots, Factories, Mills and Warehouses, it is without an equal. It costs less than tin or slate. requires no painting, can be walked on without injury and must not be considered in the same light and prejudice usually bestowed upon what are known as Tar Roofs.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, for the durability of our Roofing is not only owing to our great care in laying on a roof; but also in the scientific preparation of the Material we use. Circulars and testimonials sent upon application.

The Ounce of Prevention in Building Construction.

In no one thing is the inconsistency of human nature more apparent than in the choice of materials used in the construction of buildings, particularly in those of an expensive character, in which a man invests the savings of years, with the idea of realizing a handsome profit, but fails to use more than the ordinary precautions against fire, which is, in fact, his worst and almost only enemy against success; provided, he has chosen a good location, and one calculated to increase in value. There is really no excuse for a man of intelligence becoming the engineer of his own destruction, by making use of the elements of his undoing in the construction of buildings in which he has perhaps ventured the savings of a life time. Fire escapes are good things, in case of fire, but the ounce of prevention that makes a fire next to impossible, possesses advantages so apparent as not to require comment. The first expense may be a trifle more, but it is cheaper in the long run, as many have found by actual experience. Given, a building constructed of brick or stone, with New Jersey woven wire lathing, adamant fire-proof plaster on ceiling and walls, and all the interstices between joist, walls or roof-boards filled with mineral wool, and there will be a combination of non-inflammable materials, almost impossible to destroy under any but the most extraordinary circumstances. It pays to use such materials, and the man who deliberately neglects to avail himself of such protection, deserves the fate which sooner or later overtakes him, in the destruction of his property by fire.

MERIT WINS!

Now Over Ten Years On This Roof.

PHILADELPHIA, February 23d 1889.
I had the roof of my house, No. 858 N. 12th St., painted with the W. D. Roberts Sr's Fire and Water-proof Paint nine years ago and since that time it has never been repainted or repaired; in fact, is as good to-day as when first put on while the next to it has been repainted several times. After this test of years, I cheerfully recommend it to all who desire an excellent and durable paint.

Respectfully,

GEO. MYERS, 2021 North 22d St.

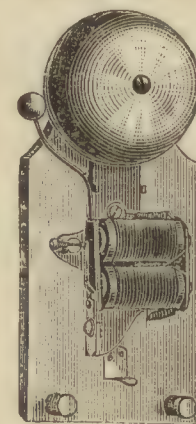

A Leaky Roof Made Good As New.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20th. 1889.
Messrs. Roberts, Taylor & Co.,
GENTS:—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers who pronounced them past repairs; the roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.

Yours respectfully,

DANIEL M. BORING,
Conveyancer and Real Estate Agent,

for Side-walks and Floors is conceded to be the best production of the present century.

Slag-Stone when properly combined with the best grades of Portland Cement produces an artificial Stone superior in appearance, toughness, tensile and crushing strength to any combination known to modern science. Its durability is greater than the best Flag-Stone and for that reason it is cheaper than brick.

Being a non-absorbent it is superior for Canneries, Slaughter Houses, Damp Cellars, Boiler Houses, Dye Houses Etc.

For the Cellars of Residences it expresses the highest standard of perfect Sanitation as it prevents the escape of noxious gases from the underlying soil, and will not absorb impurities. It prevents dampness, is easily cleaned and renders the whole house more comfortable and healthful.

❖ COMPETITION. ❖

COMPETITION is the life of trade and the firm or individual who by Make-shift and Subterfuge seeks to evade it as to their own trade must present sound and just reasons or stand convicted of cowardice and dishonorable motive.

The house of MERCHANT & Co., for the better protection of property owners import

the makers of these three brands being under contract with MERCHANT & Co., to maintain at any cost an absolutely uniform quality for each brand. In selling these three high standard varieties MERCHANT & Co., re-inforces the statement of the maker with a guarantee so thoroughly plain and reliable that even a blind man through his sense of feeling could at once recognize, a guaranteed plate from any other by its individual stamp of genuineness. There is no room for quibbling, there is no room for questioning, each plate MUST be as represented under all circumstances, and that is the whole story in a nut shell. It can be seen at a glance that with the stand taken by MERCHANT & Co. they cannot conduct an honest business and be forced into competition with any firm whose business methods are disreputable and for this reason MERCHANT & Co. have in cases where their brands were specified with those of the one in question requested the Architects to drop their brands entirely, this request has heretofore been made in good faith on our part and we now renew it.

If Architects would take the trouble in the interest of their Clients to investigate for themselves the general reputation as to the business methods of those asking their confidence they would soon discover that other importers as well as ourselves are justified in protesting against the present method of forcing honorable houses into unfair competition.

A Kitty For the Church Fund.

A novel way of raising a fund for the erection of a new church building has been adopted by a number of Western gentlemen who are now summering at Avalon, N. J. Of course the regular evening game of draw poker is indispensable with the Westerner wherever he may locate, and of course the Western gentlemen now at Avalon, are no exception to the rule, consequently upon learning that an effort was being made to raise a church fund for the erection of a new church at that place, these gentlemen, with a generosity only limited by the size of the game, agreed that the kitty should be devoted to the fund regardless of the denominational character of the building.

It is said that Jim Scovel, a Camden lawyer, has been made treasurer, and that already several hundred dollars have been obtained. Scovel has been compelled to give bonds.

Inside Window Blinds.

Many attempts have been made to produce an inside window blind that possessed at least the merit of common sense and practical utility. The field for invention was sufficiently large to justify the appearance of several methods but it seems that the genius of invention made signal failures except in the instance of the Willer method, which for simplicity, beauty and durability has no equal; in fact Willer's vertical sliding blind, although of recent introduction, is now regarded as the standard, because it slides up and down the same as the sash; it is particularly appreciated by housekeepers because it does not disturb or injure the curtains; it can be regulated with ease and possesses the merit of imparting a better finish and trim to the entire room.

The Willer Manufacturing Company, Front and Cedar streets, Milwaukee, Wis., the manufacturers of these blinds, have prepared two separate and distinct catalogues, one for general distribution containing full and specific information and tinted illustrations of their entire variety of sliding blinds. This book is intended for general distribution, and can be had upon application. Catalogue No. 9, a very elaborate and expensive production, is intended for architects only, although it can be obtained by outsiders if they will address the Willer Company and enclose 50 cents in postage stamps.

Hydraulic limes and hydraulic cements are used in both engineering and architectural construction. The magnesian limestones, when burned at a low heat, furnish a lime which possess hydraulic properties. The improvement in limekilns and the use of coal instead of wood fuel has led to the burning of lime at higher temperatures than formerly, and but little lime with hydraulic properties is produced. Limestones containing a considerable amount of clay are found in many places. When these are burned at a moderate heat and then ground in a mill they furnish hydraulic cement. Immense quantities of such cement are made near Rondout, N. Y., Louisville, Ky., and at other places. The composition, however, is liable to variation, and engineers have sought a more uniform and reliable article by mixing pure clay and carbonate of lime in proper proportions, burning them together at a moderate heat and then grinding them for the cement. The proportions are nearly four of carbonate of lime to one of clay. These artificial cements are made successfully, and in large quantities, in England, France, Germany and other European countries. The English Portland cement, which is artificial is brought into the United States in large quantities.—Exchange.

Recent Decisions.

IN RELATION TO MATTERS CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AND COMMERCIAL LAW.

Decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

BANKS:—

When a deposit is made in a Bank by "A. B., agent," the effect of the word agent is simply an acknowledgment that A. B. holds the money for another party; and where such other party is not designated, as between the bank and the depositor, it belongs to the latter.

In such a case the bank is liable if it pays out the money to third parties, whom, it alleges, were the beneficial owners of the fund.

It is clearly against public policy to allow a bank that has received money from a depositor, credited him with it upon its books, and thereby entered into an implied contract to honor his check, to allege that the money deposited belongs to some one else. This may be done by an attaching creditor or by the true owner of the funds, but the bank is estopped by its own act.

BOUNDARIES:—

While, as a general rule, a grant of land bounded upon a navigable river extends to low water mark, subject to the right of the public, for the purpose of navigation, yet there are cases in which the intention of the parties may be otherwise, and it is a cardinal rule in all cases that a grant is to be construed according to that intention.

COMPOSITION WITH CREDITORS:—

A defendant who seeks to defeat a clear legal liability on the ground that plaintiff has signed a general composition of creditors, must prove performance of every condition on which the effect of said composition is limited. The fact that a party enters up a mechanics' lien for materials furnished, does not release the purchaser from personal liability for such materials, and hence the failure of a holder of such a lien to sign an agreement of creditors, which provides that it shall not be binding unless all creditors sign, is fatal, and a party who signs the same is not bound thereby.

CORPORATION:—

Under the general corporation law of April 29, 1874, non-residents may become corporators.

A non-resident stockholder takes his shares with all the rights and privileges which pertain to them in the hands of a citizen, and he may vote upon them, and where no other qualification than ownership of stock is required of the directors he may become a director.

CURTESY:—

The Act of June 3, 1889, §5, providing that "a married woman may dispose of her property, real and personal, by last will and testament in writing, signed by her, or manifested by her mark or cross, made by her at the end thereof, in the same manner as if she were unmarried," is intended to regulate the execution of a will by a married woman, and not to authorize her to deprive her husband of his rights as tenant by the curtesy.

DEED:

The use of the word "heirs" is not under all circumstances absolutely essential in order to convey a title to real estate in fee.

A. having a deed conveying real estate to him in fee simple, in the usual form, endorsed thereon the words, "I, A., do hereby assign and set over all my right, title, interest, claim, property, and demand whatsoever, in and to the within deed to B., for value received." The deed so endorsed was delivered to B. Held, that the assignment operated to transfer an estate in fee simple to B., and not a mere life estate.

DOWER:—

Where a father seized of land dies leaving a widow and a son, to whom the land descends, upon the death of the son his (the son's) widow will be entitled during the life of the father's widow, to dower in two-thirds of the land only.

LANDLORD AND TENANT:—

Where the lessee of property surrenders his lease to the landlord prior to the expiration of a lease for part thereof executed by him to a sub-tenant, the sub-tenant becomes a tenant of the landlord. But when the landlord leases the whole property to another party, the said sub-lessee does not become the tenant of the new lessee, and his goods upon that portion of the premises occupied by him are not liable to distraint for rent due by such new lessee.

PHILADELPHIA'S BUILDING OPERATIONS.

BUILDING OPERATIONS FOR THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1890, COMPLETE.

STATISTICAL TABLES, MADE FROM DATA, COMPILED BY THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD
AND BUILDERS' GUIDE,
SHOWING THE BUILDING OPERATIONS,
BY WARDS AND MONTHS, TOGETHER WITH THE ESTIMATED COST OF
THE NEW BUILDINGS ERECT-ED OR IN COURSE OF ERECTION FROM JANUARY 1 TO JUNE 30, INCLUSIVE.

6298 New Buildings, costing $21,220,215, a decrease of only 191 new buildings, from the same months of 1889, yet an increase of capital invested of $1,359,898 over the amount invested for the first half of 1889.

In presenting the following summary of the real estate and building operations in the city of Philadelphia for the past six months of 1890,
the REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE, submits them with a great deal of confidence as to correctness.

The difficulties to be encountered, the constant thought and attention necessary, leaving out of the question entirely, the labor involved, in order to present a report of this nature, can be appreciated only by those who are in the harness and who fully understand its importance.

We are well aware of the prejudices that must be overcome, and the fixed opinions that must be combatted; yet, we present our figures, leaving the conclusions to be drawn by those who have done much guessing in the past, and who will continue in their mental speculations, right or wrong, in the face of mountains of facts and figures to the contrary.

If there are any characteristics of the year 1890 thus far to be noted they are first of all the small falling off in two and three story houses, there being but 148 of the former and 151 of the latter against the results of the corresponding months of last year. The cause of this falling off of 299 two and three story houses was, we believe, entirely due to the prolonged bad weather in March and the disturbance caused by the carpenters' strike just ended, and not as many suppose from any pre-determined purpose of builders not to erect them, for while March of this year fell off in operations 714 against March of last year, yet April of 1890 exceeded April of 1889 by 130, and May by 23, while June, the month of labor disturbances, fell off 95. Another noticeable characteristic of this year is the increase in the number of costly buildings, the most of which for the purpose of more specific data we note at the bottom of our building table giving in most instances their actual contract price.

The cost of church buildings this year, the number (7), being the same in both years is augmented by the Church of the Advocate, which alone will cost $400,000.

This year thus far the First Ward wins the flag for two story houses, as the figures show 848 against 736. for the Twenty-eighth, which was the leading ward for the same months last year. The increase in the First Ward over the same months last year being 481; while in the Twenty-eighth there has been a falling off of 448.

Three story houses, although showing a total falling of 151 compared with 1889, yet there is a gain of 269 over the same months of 1888.

The Twenty-eighth Ward takes the lead in three story houses this year, the figures being 356 against 50 for the Twenty-ninth, which was the leading ward last year with 241. It will be seen that the Twenty-ninth has fallen off 191 three story houses as against last year.

We give in full our summary for the first six months of 1889 in order that our readers may make comparisons.

Four story buildings have lost 15 of their number already when compared with last year, yet this is one more than was erected during the whole of 1888.

There is also a noticeable increase in both the number and cost of the alterations and additions this year compared with last, the figures being 940 this year, costing $1,410,000 against 816 last year, costing $1,040,400, but it must be understood that the increase does not include the $125,000 expended on the Bingham House nor the $10,000 expended on the Lulu Temple, both of which we have included in our miscellaneous, but the alterations to the interior of the Grand Opera House costing about $40,000, and the Philosophical Society $40,000, are included in our alterations and additions.

The year up to June 30th inclusive, shows 6,298 operations represented by the building permits exclusive of alterations and additions, the estimated cost being $21,220,215, an excess of $1,359,898 over the estimated cost of the operations of the same months of last year. The excess in church buildings being $270,000; school buildings, $120,000; stables, $38,000;
foundries and shops, $268,750; brewing and bottling houses, $36,960; engine and boiler houses, $38,312; factories, $120,000; dye and dry houses, $40,413; warehouses, $96,803; miscellaneous,
$2,365,000.

During the six months there were 8,160 conveyances recorded, representing a money value $42,063,784.01; the sales at auction during the same time amounting to $2,314,370.33 against which we note for the same period of 1889, 8419 conveyances recorded, amounting to $42,374, 824.05, the auction sales having been $2,410, 891.82, a falling off of 259 conveyances, a decrease in money value of $11,040.04.

The mortgage encumbrance on the properties conveyed this year up to June 30th inclusive amounts to 21 per cent., while the principal of the ground rent incumbrance at 6 per cent.

amounts to \$6,494,157.66 $\frac{2}{3}$. A noticeable feature observed here is that the 8,160 conveyances this year represent an increase of ground rent principal of \$1,607,771.16, although there were 259 less conveyances.

NOTE.—The two and three-story stores and dwellings have been counted as two and three-story houses and computed as such in the estimated cost.

We present a few opinions of leading operative builders and others. We believe the feeling among real estate men, to be one of conservatism, although there are a few of course, who still possess booming proclivities. There is one thing certain however, and that is the stock of small houses remaining unsold and unlet is large, perhaps too large, to justify a repetition of the product of last year. There will be buyers enough for well built small buildings desirably located, at fair prices for investment, but it is foolish to expect any wild speculation with the hope of selling anything and everything that looks like a house. The amount of property sold during the past six months is sufficiently large to satisfy even the most hopeful ones; if the same amount is sold during the last half of the year no fault can be found with the results of 1890. Of course the real estate market is sluggish, as it always is during the summer months, but we believe there will be an active fall trade. The result of the census will, no doubt, have a discouraging influence on building, but the influence will certainly be a healthy one, as it will deter lawyers and shoemakers from building on their own account and influence them to buy what houses they want at fair profits from legitimate builders.

Ino. J. Cassidy, builder: I am selling all the houses I can build, and upon good terms. The demand at times has been greater than I could supply, but on the whole I regard the prospects as cheering, as the past has been prosperous. We were not retarded much by the recent strike. I shall continue my operations late into the winter.

William Gillingham, President of Building Inspectors' Board, says: We have issued several hundred more permits during the first six months of 1890, than we did that of 1889. I think the fact that houses are readily filled is because people generally like the modern conveniences introduced now-a-days, and therefore many old properties are vacant and to let. On the whole, the operations are up to our expectations, and the outlook most encouraging indeed:

Wm. R. Dougherty, contractor, carpenter and builder, 1604 Sansom street, says: I am satisfied that the general operations are a shade better than they were last year this time and on a good solid basis financially. They may be overdone in two and three story houses if great caution is not exercised. A tendency is noticeable to want new houses and leave the older ones on the hands of agents and owners.

Stacy Reeves, President Builders' Exchange and contractor, says: While there may not have been as great a volume of work done in 1890, yet I think profits are fair and even good; of course competition is very great, but that should be courted and expected in the business world; and while the late strike may have affected general operations, I think we will have a good summer and fall season.

J. S. Albright, brickmaker, Fifth street and Rising Sun Lane, says: My sales have been good, but prices are about 5 per cent. less than in 1889; yet we have put out 4,000,000 up to date, and expect to make as many more this season. I regard business as first class—bills are paid when due—and no one can ask more.

Another large brick manufactory reports sales as better than they had anticipated. The fact is that 1889 opened better for builders to commence their foundations than that of 1890, as the wet weather retarded movement in this year; but we find the demand heavy for moulded and press brick, and a growing disposition to the ornamentation of house fronts, which speaks well for the culture of the people in building nice houses. We are shipping great quantities by rail to distant parts, and there seems to be a growing disposition toward conservatism in the operations, at least more this than last year, and all seem to be on a good basis, and as long as houses are put up good and ornamental on exterior we think they will sell.

The following Tables by Months, show the number of Two and Three-Story Dwelling Houses, including Two and Three-Story Stores and Dwellings, erected from January 1st to June 30th, inclusive for 1890, in each of the Thirty-four Wards, with a comparison by Wards, for the same months of 1888 and 1889.

INCLUDING THREE-STORY STORES AND DWELLINGS.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, says: He has had a busy year, and thinks the outlook for the future very bright, as people are disposed to build larger and better structures.

Moses King & Ferris, architects and engineers, 226 Walnut street, Philadelphia, say: They are doing twice the amount of work they did last year, and the better class of work is holding its own, and consider the future outlook good.

Thomas Marshall, contractor and builder, 411 Locust street: I think the late strike retarded a little the operations of this year. Some of my customers have held back on that account, but I regard the operations as a whole on a good basis.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, 410 Walnut street, Philadelphia, say: We have not done as much work for the city direct as we have for outside. Still we have been very busy, and we think the outlook exceedingly good for fall trade. We have no complaint to make, we have our share.

Warner H. Jenkins, civil engineer and Manager of Portland Paving Company, 207 Walnut street, says: We have done 25 per cent. more work than last year, and our basis has been cash. We consider all operations in a good condition because of the mode of selling to buyers and the security to the seller. On the whole the outlook is encouraging.

Mr. Wm. Harkness, Jr., Third and Levant streets, says: I believe my business has been as good this year as last, and that there is a disposition to increase and better the comforts of the modern houses, and that is one of the leading causes of the houses being so rapidly sold when built. On the whole I think building operations as in a very fair condition and the future exceedingly bright.

Thos. H. Parks, real estate broker, agent and operative builder, Eighteenth and Diamond streets, says: The outlook for the real estate business is very good, while trade at this season of the year is always sluggish, yet the demand for first-class, well-built houses continues good, those mostly in demand being medium size, say ten to thirteen rooms. Judging from the numerous enquiries at present, there will certainly be a very brisk fall trade.

Robert Anderson, real estate, Forty-fourth and Lancaster avenue, reports that for the past six months the demand and sales of new two and three-story dwellings has been good and the sales for cash unprecedented. While the demand is yet fair, he is of the opinion that there are plenty of new dwellings for the coming year, as building operations have been extensive in West Philadelphia, for the past six months.

Louis T. Brooke, real estate broker, 18 South Broad street thinks that building has been overdone, and that this fact is apparent from the present difficulty of renting small houses. He says that there is a general feeling that the stock of small houses is now greater than the demand for them. He predicts dull times ahead in the real estate business. The census returns he regards as very disappointing, and it will certainly have a bad effect upon building.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown's Building, says: I believe we are growing very much in size as a city and in wealth. The growth of the suburban districts is phenomenal. There is a tendency to build good houses and well equipped ones, and what we need to make us truly great in Philadelphia, is better streets, more boulevards and drives, so as to make our city comfortable and inviting to those who visit us. I am heartily in favor of such a move. We have had a busy year thus far, and the future looks bright financially and otherwise.

F. Harris & Co., bricklayers and general contractors, 1611 Filbert street, say: That they do not think as much large work has been done this year as last, but the dwelling house operations have been greater. Had it not been for the strike we think more big operations would have been begun and completed. We have done more work the first six months of this year than during the corresponding time of last year, and we believe the financial situation good at all points.

Wm. C. Merritt (Thornton & Merritt), practical builders, Fortieth and Poplar streets, says: That in view of the disappointing results of the census a halt should be called in building operations unless we are assured of more rapid transit. By rapid transit, Mr. Merritt does not mean steam roads that carry people into adjoining counties, but elevated or underground roads, or even a belt road with cross sections that would carry people by and through ground contiguous to the already built up portion of Philadelphia. It seems to me that at the present rate of house building we will have an overstock in a short time unless people can be conveyed to the outskirts more speedily.

David E. Dallam, real estate broker, 514 Walnut street, says that the past six months of 1890 have been exceedingly prosperous and contrary to his expectations, the demand for real estate except high fancied properties still continues. He thinks the height has been reached for the prices for central properties, as merchants doing a legitimate business cannot pay such rents, as a fair return from Chestnut street properties, as the present selling prices would demand. At the beginning of the year there was very little or no demand for sites for industrial purposes, but recently a demand for these sites has arisen, but he can see no reason for it. Manufacturers are universally complaining of unprofitable business, while at the same time they are buying property to increase their plants and production. He thinks the census returns will largely curtail the erection of small houses, for if the report is correct the city has not held its own on its natural increase, whereas building represents a provision for a year by increase of 50,000 population.

Geo. W. Hancock, President of the Citizens' Trust and Tax Indemnity Company, is of the opinion that the building boom has arrived at a stage where a halt should be called, that it has reached a stage wherein the supply is fully up to the demand; for while we no doubt will be able to find customers for all the houses that have been built, yet any great increase must, through the hands of buyers and occupants, soon become dead stock; this is evident from the great number of old houses remaining unlet and unsold. One of the most unhealthy conditions of the market is the way many of the houses are being sold, enough money not being required to make such sales genuine. Any disturbance in the money or labor market must produce disastrous results to owners who have sold houses on this unusually easy payment basis, some of them hardly receiving the first year an amount equal to a fair rental.

Jas. H. Stevenson & Son, operative builders, Twenty-ninth and Diamond streets, say that they are not scared by the census report, and that they believe there are really many more people belonging to Philadelphia than have been reported. At any rate there are people enough to occupy all the houses now being built. There are not over 200,000 buildings in Philadelphia, which on a basis of five to a house, are not enough to properly house even the population given us by the census report. Steam railway rapid transit, has taken thousands to the suburbs and adjacent counties, and will continue to do so, until our city fathers awaken from their Rip Van Winkle sleep and give us several well equipped roads to carry the people from their business places to their homes. We should have the Belt Line. The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. should be made to do justice to our city. Taxes should be levied to an amount sufficient to give us good sewers, gas and water. Until City Councils learn to appreciate the necessities of the people, builders on the outskirts had better go slow, while those who are so fortunate as to own land on the line of good passenger and steam railways may go on building for years.

This firm built over 100 buildings during the last two years, nearly all having been sold for investment. It has now 140 in course of erection, many of which have been sold. The secret of this great success of their operations is location and accessibility.

Fireproof Whitewash.

It is found that a most effective composition for fireproofing exterior surfaces may be formed by slaking a sufficient quantity of freshly-burned lime of the best grade, and when the slaking is complete there is added such an amount of skim-milk, or water in its absence, as will make the liquid of the consistency of cream. To every ten gallons of this liquid are added separately, and in powder, stirring constantly, the following ingredients in the order named: two pounds of alum, twenty-four ounces of sub-carbonate of Potassium or commercial potash and one pound of common salt. If white paint is desired a further addition is made to the liquid, though the whiteness is found to be improved by a few ounces of plaster-of-Paris. Lamp black has the effect of giving a number of shades from slate color to black. Whatever tint is used it is incorporated at this stage, and the whole, after being strained through a sieve, is run through a paint mill. When ready to apply, the paint is heated nearly to the boiling point of water, and is put on in its hot condition. It is found that the addition of a quantity of fine white sand to this composition renders it a valuable covering for roofs and crumbling brick walls, which it serves to protect.

MERIT WINS!

Now Over Ten Years On This Roof.

PHILADELPHIA, February 23d 1889.

I had the roof of my house, No. 858 N. 12th St., painted with the W. D. Roberts Sr's Fire and Water-proof Paint nine years ago and since that time it has never been repainted or repaired; in fact, is as good to-day as when first put on while the next to it has been repainted several times.

After this test of years, I cheerfully recommend it to all who desire an excellent and durable paint.

Respectfully,

GEO. MYERS, 2021 North 22d St.

A Leaky Roof Made Good As New.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20th. 1889.

Messrs. Roberts, Taylor & Co., GENTS:—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were xamined by several practical roofers who pronounced them past repairs; the roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.

Yours respectfully,

Are You Getting What You Pay For?

The Largest and Most Secure Safe Deposit Vaults are those of the

GUARANTEE
Trust and Safe Deposit Company.

316, 318 & 320 Chestnut Street,

These vaults are entirely unconnected with the walls of the fire proof building containing them, and in their construction 1,700 tons of granite and 400,000 pounds of iron and steel were used, and no expense has been spared to secure every device that can add to the safety of the valuables deposited in them. They are three stories in height, and the London Times described them some years since as being the "Largest Safe Deposit Vaults in the World."

The fire-proof building containing these vaults is entirely separate from other buildings, being surrounded on all sides by streets or wide open space, and guarded day and night by an ample force of inside and outside watchmen.

If you have use for a safe in which to place valuable papers or securities it should be a vault that is 1st.—Secure from theft.

2d.—Absolutely fire-proof.

3d.—In a properly guarded fire-proof building.

No building and no Safe Deposit Vaults in Philadelphia so completely fulfill all of these conditions as do the Fire-Proof Building and Safe Deposit Vaults of the

Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company, 316, 318 and 320 Chestnut Street.

Safes in these vaults can be rented at as low rates as are charged elsewhere for inferior accommodations.

Independently of expense, however, to those who entrust valuable papers and securities to the custody of Safe Deposit Companies the question

Am I Getting The Security I Pay For?
is extremely pertinent.

FOR TWENTY YEARS EHRET'S Slag-Stone Composition ROOFING,

has stood the severest tests and in no case has it ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-houses, Depots, Factories, Mills and Warehouses, it is without an equal. It costs less than tin or slate requires no painting, can be walked on without injury and must not be considered in the same light and prejudice usually bestowed upon what are known as Tar Roofs.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, for the durability of our Roofing is not only owing to our great care in laying on a roof; but also in the scientific preparation of the Material we use. Circulars and testimonials sent upon application.

VOL. V.—No. 28.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 16, 1890.

PRICE 15 CENTS.

"Malice Dies By Its Own Hand."

THE injunction obtained against JOHN J. CASSIDY, the Builder of the First Ward, for an alleged malconstruction of certain walls has been dissolved after due investigation, and some modification made. It has been found that nothing but the best of building material has been used, such as Bar Sand, Cedar Hollow Lime, and Trenton and Norristown Red Stone. These are well-known materials to all authorities on the subject of building, and therefore need no further vindication than that they are used extensively upon public and private operations at large by all well-known builders, and endorsed by architects, engineers and others.

The information was concocted and given by a party known under the nom-de-plume of James Littleman, who is neither a resident nor a tax-payer of the City of Philadelphia, but is the dupe of some malicious person or persons who conspired against the said JOHN J. CASSIDY to have an injunction obtained.

Mr. CASSIDY has searched the entire City and County of Philadelphia for the aforesaid James Littleman, but he has failed to materialize.

Mr. CASSIDY hereby denies the entire statement in toto, from beginning to end, and wishes to inform the public that he has been the victim of some evil designing persons during his absence from the city.

Mr. CASSIDY'S reputation is too well known throughout Philadelphia to be libeled in this manner. He has erected $1,500,000 worth of real estate, representing an aggregate of 1000 houses, and has sold them all, up to date, thus enriching the City, and furnishing houses for hundreds of people, who purchased them for investment and purpose of dwelling in them. He furthermore proposes to erect as many more houses in the next year, and has made his arrangements accordingly.

He proposes to pursue his policy of business, which has accomplished so much to benefit the Southeastern section of the City, and feels a sense of justification for so doing in the confidence he has had thus far reposed in his good judgment and honesty of purpose. Neither the malice of clandestine enemies nor petty misrepresentation shall stand as a barrier to the march of progress and improvement in which he is so largely and deeply interested.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JULY 16, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE Equitable Trust Company, which opened its doors for the transaction of business on January 8th, 1890, has just made public its semi-annual statement for the six months ending June 30th. The showing is a good one and one calculated to inspire confidence in the business management of the gentleman having in charge the work of the company. There is a net profit of $8,622.38 for the short time in which the company has been in business, and the prospects are for a largely increased volume of business in the future. The office is at 624 Chestnut street.

THE "Recollections of General Grant" in pamphlet form has been issued by Mr. George W. Childs, of the Ledger. They are dedicated to Mrs. Grant, and besides containing many personal recollections of General Grant hitherto unpublished, there is an interesting account of his presentation of the portraits of Grant, Sheridan and Sherman, to West Point Military Academy. Coming from such a close personal friend and admirer as Mr. Childs, these recollections have a distinct value of their own, which makes them unusually interesting.

for Side-walks and Floors is conceded to be the best production of the present century.

Slag-Stone when properly combined with the best grades of Portland Cement produces an artificial Stone superior in appearance, toughness, tensile and crushing strength to any combination known to modern science. Its durability is greater than the best Flag-Stone and for that reason it is cheaper than brick.

Being a non-absorbent it is superior for Canneries, Slaughter Houses, Damp Cellars, Boiler Houses, Dye Houses Etc.

For the Cellars of Residences it expresses the highest standard of perfect Sanitation as it prevents the escape of noxious gases from the underlying soil, and will not absorb impurities. It prevents dampness, is easily cleaned and renders the whole house more comfortable and healthful.

MERIT WINS!

Now Over Ten Years On This Roof.

PHILADELPHIA, February 23d 1889.
I had the roof of my house, No. 858 N. 12th St., painted with the W. D. Roberts Sr's Fire and Water-proof Paint nine years ago and since that time it has never been repainted or repaired: in fact, is as good to-day as when first put on while the next to it has been repainted several times.

After this test of years, I cheerfully recommend it to all who desire an excellent and durable paint.

Respectfully,
GEO. MYERS, 2021 North 22d St.

A Leaky Roof Made Good As New.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20th. 1889.
Messrs. Roberts, Taylor & Co.,
GENTS:—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers who pronounced them past repairs: the roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.

Yours respectfully,

VOL. V.—No. 29.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1890.

PRICE 15 CENTS.

A CHANCE to put a practical man into a place, which by nature and education he is fitted to occupy, will soon be offered in the candidacy of Warner H. Jenkins for a building inspector. Mr. Jenkins is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, an hydraulic engineer of recognized ability, and the inventor and patentee of the well and favorably known metalithic pavement. As a member of the Master Builders' Exchange, the manager of the Portland Paving Company, and Consulting Engineer to many large paving companies, Mr. Jenkins has had unusual opportunities to familiarize himself with all the details appertaining to building in its various branches. He is therefore fully equipped for the position and will make an invaluable member of the Board of Building Inspectors.

New Catalogue.

Catalogue of American and Foreign Periodicals on Architecture and the kindred Arts, with Club Rates to Architects, Designers, Builders, etc. 1890 By Palliser, Palliser & Co.

Palliser, Palliser & Co., offer, on specially favorable terms, to those interested in matters pertaining to architecture, building, and the related arts, the opportunity of subscribing to every journal of note having a bearing on the subjects named. The journals embraced in their clubbing-list catalogue, number over one hundred; and selections from these may be made to suit the subscribers's fancy. A very advantageous feature of this clubbing arrangement, is the offer to send the magazines and journals, at clubbing rates, to different addresses, thus permitting a number of persons to select what each prefers, and at the same time to reap the advantage of the reduced subscription rates. The new catalogue for 1890, will be mailed to any address, free of charge on application to Rational Architecture.

The very art element of architecture has been the cause of its degradation. From the most useful of arts, it has become mostly ornamental. From meaning and expressing the utility of an edifice, it has come to refer to its appearance only. People have forgotten that it arose from the necessity of man for shelter, and view it as a product of the study or of the studio, in which beauty and æsthetic effects are the only ends sought, while utility, convenience, expression of intention, have all become secondary considerations. Nothing could be more erroneous, nothing more fatal to the production of sound architecture.

Architecture is not the product of the imagination, but the result of experience and foresight. The painter in his studio, or the sculptor in his, has nothing to indicate his thoughts or force them into certain channels. His fancy is free, and he allows it to carry him where it will. The architect, on the other hand, is limited by innumerable requirements and difficulties, all of which are real and physical, and all of which must be overcome before his work can be a success. His creations are not intended for the decoration of a gallery or to be preserved under glass, but they must stand the test of time and climate, must bear a relation to the manners and customs of the day—Popular Science Monthly.

The railway mileage of the world at the beginning of 1889, according to the best authorities aggregated a little over 357,000 miles, divided among the continents as follows: Europe 133,900, America 190,000, Asia 17,800, Africa 5,200, Australia 10,500. Thus new America has already much more than half of the entire railway mileage of the globe and is yearly gaining with great rapidity upon the older continents and nations. The United States have now about 160,000, or nearly 45 per cent. of the grand total, and this country is every year building more than the entire railway mileage of many of the European Nations—Railway Age.

Recent Decisions.

IN RELATION TO MATTERS CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AND COMMERCIAL LAW.

Decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

MECHANIC'S LIEN:—

Under the Mechanic's Lien Law of 1836, June 16th, (P. L. 696), it is the duty of any interested person who is dissatisfied with the description of the premises in the lien to apply to the Court, and have the curtilage fixed, if he thinks the claim covers more ground than is useful or necessary for the proper enjoyment of the building. The Mechanic's Lien Docket is notice to all parties of the description, and where no application is made to have the curtilage determined, a party cannot, after a sale upon the mechanic's lien, dispute it. A purchaser of the property at such sale is protected by the judgment on the mechanic's lien as to the curtilage.

PARTNERSHIP:—

A judgment confessed by one partner in the firm-name, even for a partnership debt, is void against the non-assenting partners, and on motion will be struck off by the Court.

The judgment is, however, good against the partner confessing it: and the partnership goods may be sold under an execution on such judgment for a firm debt.

Where a partner sells his interest in the firm to his co-partner and retires from the business, a confession of judgment by him afterwards in the firm-name is not only without authority but in fraud of his co-partner's rights.

VENDOR AND VENDEE:—

A party having become embarrassed in business sold certain properties to his brother, it being understood that the purchase money was not to be paid to the vendor, but was to remain in the hands of the vendee, and to be used by him for the purpose of paying the vendors debts.

Held, that the vendee was liable to account as a trustee for all the funds that came into or remained in his hands, under the above arrangement.
